

Applying TBI Concepts for Person Centered Support

PROGRAM GOAL

As a continuation of the PHCO Brain Injury Program, learners will be able to identify specialty populations affected by Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI), including those with substance use issues, children, diverse cultural backgrounds, gender and sexuality considerations, aging individuals, and military personnel. They will understand the challenges and needs of individuals with TBI, recognize the importance of care management in recovery, identify tailored support services for both individuals with TBI and their caregivers, and apply knowledge through case studies to explore real-world scenarios and effective strategies in TBI care management.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

At the close of this activity, participants will be able to:

- Explain the role of care manager as part of the interdisciplinary care team in providing care for individuals with traumatic brain injury (TBI).
- Implement tailored support services to meet the unique needs of individuals with TBI as well as their caregivers.
- Apply effective strategies to support evidence-based TBI care.

TARGET AUDIENCE

- Nurses
- Case Managers
- Social Workers
